

Study Like a Topper with ChatGPT

5 Plug-n-Play Prompts for Smart, Focused & Fun Revision

1. Teach Me Like a Teacher

Prompt:

"I want you to teach me [topic name] like a teacher who knows I've read the chapter but I still don't get it fully. Use relatable analogies, real-world examples, and short bullet points."

Notes for Best Use:

- Begin with: "I've already read the chapter but need better clarity."
- Tell ChatGPT which part confuses you the most.
- Let ChatGPT ask you questions first before giving an answer.
- Stick to one topic at a time.

2. Quiz Me with MCQs

Prompt:

"Can you quiz me on [topic] with 10 MCQs, explain each answer briefly, and highlight where I made a mistake (if I do)?"

Notes for Best Use:

- Ask for one question at a time.
- Say: "Only give the next question after I answer."
- Use for self-evaluation before exams.

3. Summarize with Key Points

Prompt:

"Summarize this chapter in less than 200 words. Highlight key terms, formulas, and dates in bold. Make it easy to revise quickly."

Notes for Best Use:

- Paste your textbook paragraph or notes.
- Say: "Act like a memory coach."
- You can also ask: "Now turn this into flashcards."

4. 7-Day Revision Plan

Prompt:

"I have 7 days to revise [subject name]. Make me a day-wise plan that covers all important topics, keeps it light, and includes daily motivation."

Notes for Best Use:

- Mention weak areas and your available time daily.
- Let ChatGPT ask: "Which chapters do you struggle with most?"

5. Memory Palace Method

Prompt:

"Turn this chapter into a 'memory palace' or creative story so I can visualize it and remember it better."

Notes for Best Use:

- Say: "I'm a visual learner..."
- Paste a small 1–2 paragraph topic.
- Ask for a fun or weird story using the info for stronger memory.
